Alcohol & Guest Conduct

- Sea Salt practices the responsible service of alcohol.
- Where there is a group booking organisers are responsible for the behaviour of their guests and will assist management in resolving any situations including the harassment to staff or other guests. We will require you to appoint a responsible service of alcohol contact within the event to assist management in the liaison with guests in the event that responsible services of alcohol issues arise during the event.
- Otherwise, Sea Salt reserves the right to refuse service and/or eject patrons where they are behaving inappropriately.
- The Liquor Licensing Act prohibits our staff from serving alcohol to persons under age or persons we believe to be intoxicated. In the event that a function being closed or a person is ejected the police will be contacted to escort guests from the premises and there will be no refund provided as a consequence.
